NUDISM NO PROBLEM IF SONS MADE HOME IN COLD CARIBOO

KAMLOOPS (CP) — Nudism would be no problem if the Sons of Freedom Doukhobors moved to the Cariboo from the Kootenay.

Ald. C. Graham of Prince George, commenting on a resolution calling for dispersal of the Freedomites that was passed at the annual convention of the Union of B.C. Municipalities, said the sect might move to the Cariboo.

"But nudism would be no problem with us. The mosquitos would take care of that in summer and it's too cold in winter."

JFK Will Have Power To Reduce U.S. Tariffs

WASHINGTON (CP) — President Kennedy may shortly have in his grasp the greatest power to reduce United States tariffs ever handed a president in modern times.

With just one more step to go—a Senate floor debate that starts Monday—the new trade expansion bill will become law, authorizing the Kennedy administration to initiate in 1963 a new design to stimulate transatlantic trade through step-by-step tariff slashes during a five-year period.

The most important scheme in Kennedy's legislative program, the bill would authorize the president to reduce tariffs on broad categories of goods by up to 50 per cent over the five-year period and to negotiate elimination of tariffs altogether on those categories of goods in which the U.S. and the Common Market combined supply at least 80 per cent of the world market.

Key to the effectiveness of the legislation — virtually unmarked by the assaults of protectionists in the House of Representatives and Senate finance committee—is the entry of Britain into the six-country European Economic Community.

Entry of Britain will widen the list of goods on which tariffs can be eliminated altogether. And the tariff-reduction power, in turn, is expected by the U.S. administration to help Britain gain Common Market entry. Leaders of that trade bloc—France and West Germany—are well aware of U.S. support of Britain's membership and also are aware that negotiated reduction of tariffs may provide them with an easier road to travel into the American market.

Four Killed In Ontario Car Crash

STURGEON FALLS, Ont. (CP)—Four persons were killed and two youths severely injured Friday night when their car swerved off a highway near here, careered 130 feet along a ditch and smashed into a boulder before over-turning.

All six were from the village of Field, 15 miles north of this northern Ontario centre.

Dead are: Raymond Joseph Sharkey, 25, believed to have been the driver; Andre Robidas, 16; Gilbert Renaud, 17; and Rhea Lafontaine, 17.

In hospital are: Humbert Paquette, 18, and Marcel Breton, 17. Both are in satisfactory condition.

Gas Bombs Thrown In S. Rhodesia

SALISBURY (AP) — Southern Rhodesia's wave of violence continued today with three gas-line bombs thrown against the homes of whites in Salisbury and another in the centre of industrial Bulawayo.

Several other acts of arson and stonings were reported by police.

Previously these attacks—which officials blame on Negro nationalist extremists—have been directed almost solely against other Negroes.

They have been described by the government and police as acts of political intimidation against moderate Negroes willing to go along with Premier Sir Edgar Williehead's plan of forming a multi-racial government and a multi-racial society in progressive stages.

The extremists demand an immediate black-majority rule and "liberation."

The grant was announced Friday night at a dinner launching the first financial campaign of the fledgling university. It brings total pledges to Laurentian to within $1,000,000 of the $7,500,000 estimated cost of the first stage of the university's master plan.

University Gets $2,500,000 Grant

SUDBURY, Ont. (CP) — A largest corporate donation ever made to a Canadian university, has been given to Laurentian University of Sudbury by International Nickel Company of Canada.

The grant was announced Friday night at a dinner launching the first financial campaign of the fledgling university. It brings total pledges to Laurentian to within $1,000,000 of the $7,500,000 estimated cost of the first stage of the university's master plan.

ASTRONAUTS' KITE FLOWN

Milton O. Thompson, U.S. space agency pilot, is at the controls of a wierd-looking flexible kite, called a para-glider, as he is towed to an altitude of 6,000 feet over Edwards Air Force Base, Calif. In the kite's first public demonstration, the paraglider, in which Thompson glided back to earth in three minutes and 44 seconds, is a forerunner of one which someday will glide astronauts' capsules and send rockets back from space.

The advance party of Freedomites were taken from Grand Forks by car to Brownlee Park, provincial campsite on the banks of the Similkameen River 12 miles east of here.

Residents in the area say the temperature was 26 degrees Thursday night and was expected to drop further Friday night. The elderly Freedomite campers had only tents for shelter.

The Freedomites, now numbering about 1,000, plan to move to Brownlee park in a shuttle service from Grand Forks, where their trek has been stalled for more than a week. The last part of about 100 children is expected to move Sunday.

From Brownlee Park they will have another 100 or so miles to go to Agassiz.

Stroliff was picked up by an ambulance called by RCMP who are accompanying the Freedomites. He speaks only Russian and his niece was called to the hospital to act as an interpreter.

At Agassiz, destination of the Freedomite trek which started in the Kootenays in southeast B.C. Sept. 2, the army was called into strengthen fortifications around Mountain Prison, which holds 67 Freedomite terrorists.

Canadian Engineers, worked through the night to help the prison staff build an extra barbed-wire fence around the 100-acre federal prison. The strengthening was ordered by Justice Minister Fleming following a cabinet meeting in Ottawa Friday. Civilian guards were placed around public buildings in Agassiz and surrounding areas.

Soldiers Prepare Prison With Barbed-Wire Fence

PRINCETON, B.C. (CP) — An advance guard of more than 200 elderly Sons of Freedom Doukhobors moved into a chilly campsite near here Friday night as the sect started breaking camp at Grand Forks to continue its western trek from the British Columbia interior.

One member of the advance party was admitted almost immediately to Princeton Hospital with pneumonia. Hospital officials said Tom Stroliff, 79, of Glade, is in serious condition.

Soviet Threats on Berlin Getting Worse, Says US

WASHINGTON (AP) — High U.S. administration sources say Soviet threats to Berlin are greater now than in many years, and that it was chiefly this situation—not Cuba—that triggered President Kennedy's request for standby authority to call up 150,000 reservists.

While the current military buildup in Cuba was a factor in Kennedy's decision, these sources said, the Berlin situation is considered infinitely more dangerous because the Soviets seek there to weaken the North Atlantic alliance.

The Berlin crisis was described by these senior government spokesmen as worse than last year, when 148,000 U.S. military reservists were called up to help meet Communist threats in Berlin and elsewhere.

TO CALL UP ANY TIME President Kennedy's current request for authority to mobilize the reserves is designed as insurance against the worldwide menace of communism, of which Cuba is only a minor factor, they said.

If Congress approves Kennedy's call to active duty, it will give the president authority to call them whenever he feels world events warrant it.

The officials indicated any call-up of reservists this winter would likely involve air force tactical units, and probably navy destroyer crew members, rather than large units of the army reserve or National Guard.

EASTON, Pa. (AP)—A father and eight-year-old son he was seeking died of gas fumes in a silo on their farm near here Friday.

Mrs. Raymond Buss missed her son, Raymond Scott, and saw a ladder against the 45-foot silo. She called her husband, Raymond, 30, and he quickly climbed the ladder, spotted the boy and told his wife to call for help.

The father entered the silo, pulled to within seven feet of the top with corn. Firemen who later recovered both bodies said the father apparently climbed part way out after reaching the boy but collapsed.

Deputy Coroner Alfonso Morales said the two victims died of inhalation of some poison gas.

Dr. Richard Grundy said Miss Garland, 30, suffered an attack at the Lake Tahoe home where she had been staying with her two children.

The entertainer's personal physician, Dr. Kermit Osserman, flew in from New York and was at her bedside. He said Miss Garland may leave the hospital late today or Sunday.

Canadian Oil Firm To Sell

CALGARY (CP)—Two American companies made bids Friday for major chunks of Western Canada's petroleum industry.

British American Oil Company Limited, one of North America's producing and marketing giants, made an offer for Royaltie Oil Company Limited, a fully-integrated Canadian independent.

Knownlton Made Director Of Retailers

Bruce Knowlton, Winfield pharmacist, was elected to the board of directors of the Retail Merchants Association of B.C. at their annual meeting held this week in Vancouver.

Mr. Knowlton has long been an active member of the association, having served with it before moving to Winfield from the Vancouver area.

Guest speaker J. J. McKenney, director of the small business branch of the Department of Trade and Commerce told the retailers that too many influential maverick small businessmen are going broke in Canada, but that those who will learn and adapt will continue to be the economic backbone of the nation.

EDMONTON (CP)—The bludgeoned body of a mother of five children was found today in a house in northeast Edmonton after a milkman discovered a note pinned to a door.

The victim was identified by police as Mrs. Little Preszlak, about 40, wife of post office employee Peter Preszlak.

Dr. M. M. Cantor, provincial coroner, said the woman died from hammer blows to the head about 5 or 6 a.m.

Milkman Victor Howlett found this note pinned to the door: "Don't wake the children. Call police. Somebody is dead in the house."

Police believe the children, aged three to 10, were asleep in the house when the attack took place.

Neighbors took care of Christina, 10, Peter, 9, David, 8, Gregory, 7, and Terry, 3.

Pair Charged In Texas Oil Scandal

TYLER, Tex. (AP)—Federal Grand Jurors accused two elderly brothers of oil piracy Friday—the first criminal charges stemming from a slanted-well scandal said to involve $1,000,000.

A 109-count indictment named J. C. Stroud of Henderson, Tex., W. V. Stroud of Jolietville, Tex., and Stroud Brothers Oil Company, their firm at Jolietville.

Both men and the company are accused of shipping contraband oil between states in violation of the Connally Hot Oil Act; filing false and inaccurate statements with the federal petroleum board at Kilgore, Tex.; and conspiring to commit the various law violations.

The Strouds both appeared in Dallas Tuesday at a state legislative committee investigation into the angling of east Texas oil wells to take oil from neighboring leases. They were among 30 witnesses refusing to answer questions on the ground of possible incrimination.

Shipowners Asked To Not Transport Arms To Cuba

LONDON (AP)—The British government was reported today privately urging shipowners in Britain to refrain from transporting Communist arms to Cuba.

Informants said the appeal was issued by Transport Minister Ernest Marples through the General Council of British Shipping.

The government can impose a direct ban on shipments from Britain but would have difficulty regulating British ships operating from other countries.

The Soviet Union has chartered British and other vessels recently to ship arms and supplies to Cuba.

Hovercraft Slices Time —50 Mile Trip Now 17

RHYL, Wales (AP)—From the inside it looked like a distorted airliner, much too wide for its length.

Twenty-four passengers sat in four rows of six. All plainly suffered from takeoff nerves.

The steward's voice ousted the music from the speaker system.

"Welcome aboard the world's first Hovercraze service. In a few moments we shall be leaving for Wallasey. Your driver is Capt. Colquhoun."

Lee Colquhoun, 42-year-old test pilot and ugly roaring beetle contending for a transport revolution, lifted its 10 tons off the beach sand and alighted gently over the dunes toward the sea.

The Hovercraft was the VA-3, one of a dozen under development here. It rides eight inches above land or sea on a cushion of air produced by two gas turbine engines. Two more engines drive rear-mounted propellers to move it forward.

A shower of spray whipped past the windows as the VA-3 moved onto the surf and swished up to 50 miles an hour.

VARIES IN SMOOTHNESS

The noise was that of a four-engined airliner. The motion was different.

Over the sand the ride was like smooth.

Over the sea it developed a pitch, something like a plane in slight turbulence, punctuated by heavy jolts as big waves slapped up against the bow.

Twenty-five minutes after leaving, the VA-3 edged onto a concrete slipway at Wallasey, 17 miles across the Dee Estuary from Rhyll. By road it is 50 miles and 90 minutes.

Five years ago the Hovercraft was little more than an idea in the brain of inventor Christopher Cockerell, who built his first model from two food cans. He showed it to the government's military advisers who put it on the secret list. It took Cockerell a year to get the idea declassified. Now four major companies are pushing it hard.

Two years ago a small Hovercraft called the SRN-1 went from France to England. Last July the VA-3 started the Rhyll-Wallasey run, making eight return trips daily and always working at more than 90 per cent capacity.

North America Imports Taper

GENEVA (Reuters) — Western European imports from North America tapered sharply in 1961 following rapid growth in the previous year, a United Nations report said Friday.

The report, compiled by the Economic Commission for Europe, said trade results were "somewhat disappointing."

Exports to the United States and Canada, after a fall of nearly five per cent in 1960, declined by one per cent.

Imports rose by only two per cent compared to 38 per cent in 1960, "and were thus much less dynamic than the average flow of imports into Western Europe."

The report blamed imports stagnation in 1961 on reduced deliveries of jet aircraft, base metals and crude materials, offset by greatly increased imports of cereals, industrial machinery and equipment.

European car exports suffered the largest setback.

The value of car exports to the United States, which already had decreased sharply in 1960, declined by a further $250,000,000 or 40 per cent, in 1961.

"The main reason for this steep decrease was the growing competition from America's compact cars, whose share in the total output of cars in the United States rose to 34 per cent in 1961, as compared with only two per cent in 1960."

"The Volkswagen was the only European car, sales of which continued to grow on the American market in 1961."

Magic Medicine Man Has Many Customers

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (Reuters) — Feeling run-down?

The man to see is Reggie Naidoo, a Johannesburg multimillionaire who has a remedy for everything from an upset stomach to persistent bad luck with the ponies.

Naidoo has been in the "magic" or magic medicine business for more than 20 years and has never lost a customer, "old age and accidents apart."

His customers are mostly Africans who still cling to their old beliefs and have more faith in his mixtures of roots, bark and herbs than the scientifically measured chemicals contained in a doctor's prescription prepared by a druggist.

Many of Naidoo's customers want help looking for a job. After smearing themselves with some of his snake or hippopotamus fat they can sit down confidently to an aptitude test.

For someone suffering from insomnia, a bit of animal skin and bone may be the answer.

In a row of jars at the back of his store are ready-mixed potions — tonics, pick-me-ups, stomach pills, blood purifiers and stimulants.

Baboon and snake skins, porcupine quills and vultures' wings hang on the walls next to roots, bark and dried herbs.

"The brain of the vulture is most in demand," Naidoo says.

"Africans like to gamble and they believe that a vulture's brain will give them the power to see the future in their dreams. So they go sleep concentrating on next day's races and if a number comes up in their dreams they back it."

Britain Will Enter ECM Within Months Says US

WASHINGTON (CP) — U.S. officials say that despite the strong attack Commonwealth prime ministers are making against Britain's proposed entry into the Common Market, there is no need for "any great alarm and anxiety" by the United States.

The U.S. is strongly backing Britain's membership in an expanded European economic alliance.

The U.S. officials feel that when the prime ministers conference in London is over, Britain will continue her schedule that may end in completion of a Common Market membership agreement within a matter of months.

The timetable suggested in U.S. quarters is that Britain likely will resume talks with Common Market negotiators on a deputy minister level by the end of September and on a ministerial level early next month. The U.S. view is that even when time-consuming parliamentary debate on agreement ratification is over, Britain may be firmly entrenched as a Common Market member by the end of 1963.

"And that won't mean the end of the Commonwealth," one official said. "If the United States had ever believed the Commonwealth would disintegrate, it never would have suggested Britain's entry in the first place."

Though the preferential tariff system, one of the key economic advantages of the Commonwealth partnership, might eventually be destroyed, the U.S. is convinced that sentiment and spiritual ties will keep the partnership alive. This goes contrary to the opinion of India's Prime Minister Nehru who told the London meeting the partnership may not survive unless radical changes are made in Common Market proposals.

A reported comment that caused more concern here was that attributed to Prime Minister Dielenbaker who was quoted by an informant as telling his colleagues that "North America might feel less obligated" to share in the defence of Europe if the over-seven free trade nations join the Common Market six.

THE VA3 HOVERCRAFT, Wales, across the River Dee Estuary to Wallasey, England — a 17-mile trip. While two gas turbine engines produce the air cushion, two rear mounted propellers move the craft forward. The VA3, which weighs 12½ tons, will carry 24 passengers and a crew of two. S. Africa Infected By Fear

DURBAN (AP)—Author Alan Paton says South Africa is so infected by fear and hatred that "we no longer live under the rule of law here."

Paton, best known abroad for his 1948 novel Cry, the Beloved Country, was interviewed at his home at Kloof, in the hills 15 miles outside Durban.

Surveying the situation under Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd, whose government now seems stronger than ever, Paton said:

"Everything here is now run in the interests of the Afrikaner people—the folk, the white people. The hallowed tradition of justice—impartiality — is gone here. Now the biggest crime is to be a 'traitor to the Afrikaner people' and that is interpreted by some as treason to law and order."

"If you are not 100 per cent in favor of apartheid (racial separation), then you are counted as 'assisting the spread of communism.' And if anybody suggests any change in the situation here he's virtually a traitor to the state. This new charge of 'assisting in the spread of communism' is no joke, as many people will learn."

End Violent Oppression In Angola Says Church

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — The sharply reduced during the past mission board of the United year. Wives and children were withdrawn last October and the return of missionaries on leave has been delayed because of trouble getting visas.

However, the Portuguese government recently began granting visas again and some missionaries are returning.

The report presented to council today condemns contract labor for low wages and enforced absence from home; severe forms of corporal punishment without legal process; encroachment of white settlement on African land, and denial of freedom to protest against these conditions.

A series of resolutions include an appeal to the government of Portugal to end "the continuing tragedy in Angola," extend full civil rights to Angolans, acknowledge the right of the people to decide their own political future and in the meantime to step up education.

The United Church, and the three churches that formed the union in 1925, have maintained missions in central Angola for some 75 years. Some 50 missionaries are assigned to the country, but strength has been BOSTON (AP)—The Massachusetts Port Authority today disclosed plans for a $300,000,000 redevelopment plan to remake the area near North Station, Charlestown and parts of Cambridge and Somerville. The prospectus proposed new highways, mass transportation construction, urban renewal, housing, industrial development and river bank improvements.

ENTREVES, Italy (AP)—The premiers of France and Italy today officially opened the new Mont Blanc highway tunnel, whose roadway will carry traffic through the Alps in 1964.

Amintore Fanfani of Italy and Georges Pompidou of France met at Chamonix, near the French mouth of the 7.2-mile tunnel, and travelled the passageway together by rail and auto to the Italian opening at this village near Courmayeur.

The two premiers were to hold talks on European unity later at Turin.

Five hundred Italian drilling and excavating workers and thousands of local residents cheered as the two statesmen cut a ribbon in the tri-colors of their nations at the Italian mouth of the tunnel.

The actual breakthrough was Aug. 14 when an explosive charge ripped apart the last 10 feet of rock separating France and Italy deep beneath Europe's tallest peak.

Little Optimism By Canadians Of Winning Better Trade Plan

LONDON (CP) — Canadian officials emerged at the half-way point today in Commonwealth talks on vital food exports with little optimism over prospects of winning better trade terms in British negotiations to join the Common Market.

In committee sessions at the Marlborough House conference centre, Canada, Australia and New Zealand urged Britain to seek more precise assurances from the Common Market six for their food exports if Britain enters the European trade group.

With the talks still unfinished, informed sources said Britain held little hope of winning further concessions from the Europeans in negotiations at Brussels.

The six have proposed that world marketing agreements be worked out for temperate food products from the three big Commonwealth members, which are almost certain to be affected if Britain joins the Common Market under present terms.

The conference's committee work now is expected to extend into Saturday, thus postponing until Monday the resumption of plenary sessions where the prime ministers will sum up their positions.

US Committee Probes Vaccine

WASHINGTON (AP)—A U.S. government advisory committee is expected to recommend today whether Sabin oral polio vaccine should still be used in mass immunization programs.

Plebiscite For Brazil

BRASILIA, Brazil (AP)—The chamber of deputies eased Brazil's political crisis today by approving a plebiscite for next January on whether to give executive powers to the figure-head office of President Joao Goulart.

The vote on the plebiscite bill, already approved by the senate, was 169 to 83—five over the majority required.

The action apparently lessened the threat of military intervention in Latin America's largest country, which has been without a government since Prime Minister Francisco Brochado da Rocha and his cabinet resigned Friday over the plebiscite issue.

The country still was confronted by a general strike, but Goulart was reported treading fly to Rio de Janeiro, to try to persuade labor leaders to call it off.

Leaders of the strike—involving 2,000 unions claiming 12,000,000 workers—have insisted that the plebiscite be held Oct. 7, same date as the congressional elections.

The advisory group was scheduled to meet here this morning. The public health service said Surgeon-General Luther Terry would issue a statement this afternoon, after the closed meeting.

The meeting, originally scheduled for Sept. 27, was moved up hurriedly after Canadian officials reported four cases of paralytic polio among the 4,000,000 persons who received the Sabin live virus vaccine. The Canadian federal health department recommended a pause in a further use of the vaccine pending a study.

The discoverer of the vaccine, Dr. Albert B. Sabin, said the Canadian government was ill-advised to discontinue the vaccine, adding:

"What should be done is to intensify its use."

The Cincinnati university researcher made the comments aboard the liner Queen Mary in a radio-telephone interview with The Associated Press.

"The oral polio vaccine has been given safely to over 300,000,000 people without a single case of polio being attributable to the vaccine," he said in another radio-telephone talk with the San Francisco polio program committee. "But no vaccine can prevent polio in those already infected with the disease."

He said delays in immunization "leave us wide open to outbreaks of polio which could reach epidemic proportions."

without permanent waving solutions!

As casual as if you were born with it, your hair can be radiant with beautiful curls and waves, in the latest style without permanent waving solutions, without neutralizing, without sprays, lacquers or sticky, sticky gums. In the miracle of one simple application even difficult to curl hair develops entrancing, fascinating waves as natural-looking as naturally wavy hair. Most important, you don't have to put up your hair night after night, let the wave stays in. Must up your hair as much as you like, sleep on it, let it blow in the wind, . . . just comb and back into place fall these soft lovely curls and waves still as natural looking as if you were blessed with wavy hair all your life.

And, equally important, your hair gleams radiantly, is so soft, so smooth, so natural to touch. There's none of that "dried straw" feeling you get after permanent. . . none of the stickiness of messy lacquers. . . none of that old country "fixed set" look as you get from gummy wave sets. Most important of all, your casual curls and waves still look as glamorous the eighth day as they do the first, yet the cost is so fantastically low it's amazing!

JUST COMB IN

No matter how straight and hard to curl your hair is, just apply PERFORM HAIR WAX GEL LOTION then comb through hair and put up on regular curlers or pins. In the morning your hair will be lovely with casual waves and curls, as perfect as naturally wavy hair. No straggly ends, no "flicks," no need for pins. And, no matter how damp and dismal or hot and muggy the weather, your Perform should stay as neat and lovely the 8th day as the 1st. So try this amazing discovery. Ask for Perform today.

UN Group In Kelowna
And The Hunger Fight

Hunger, the denial of man's basic need, the child's primary right — food, to sustain life in the body which he was born. Hunger which holds sway over half of all mankind. This was the subject, a vast and vital one for the world, which was dealt with by Dr. H. L. Trueman, executive secretary of the committee of the United Nations Association for Canada at the Kelowna High School last night.

Dr. Trueman was speaking to the Kelowna branch of the UN Association on a regular tour which has taken him throughout B. C.

The address began with a description of the work of the UN, especially the functions of its welfare groups. Over 85 percent of UN workers are dealing with economic and social problems.

DEVELOPMENT DECADE

A "decade of development" with emphasis on the ability to adapt to changing world conditions is now under way within the UN. Concentration of man's work includes the attempt to eliminate war, the fight to eliminate pestilence and the fight to eliminate hunger.

The latter, a result of successes in preserving and prolonging life, is becoming even more important, according to Dr. Trueman, as the world's population grows at the fantastic rate of a million a week — a million more mouths to feed.

With work in underdeveloped countries going on, the success of technical aid to those countries is being felt in the world and the continued surplus of food in North America, unique in the world has created problems.

From 1905 until 1916, Rev. A. W. Herdman was the pastor and was followed by Rev. Mr. Dunn. At this time, Rev. J. Switzer was in charge of the Methodist Church, then located south of the present site of Fumerton's store. In 1916, these two congregations united and both pastors resigned.

The Rev. E. P. Braden, D.D. (father of the well-known Bernard Braden) was the first pastor of this United Church, his term of tenure extending from 1916 to 1923. He was followed by Rev. A. McLurg, in 1923, the Methodists, Congregationalists and Presbyterians throughout Canada were united under the name, "The United Church of Canada." The Rev. A. K. McMinn was then called to minister to this church, and Rev. Dr. W. W. McPherson, M.A., D.D., was his successor, covering the period 1932 until 1943. Dr. W. W. Lees followed from 1943 until 1949; Rev. E. E. Baskler, B.A., D.D., from 1949 to 1951; Rev. R. S. Leitch, B.A., B.D., from 1951 until 1960. In 1960, this congregation was fortunate in securing the services of the present incumbent, Rev. E. H. Birdsall, M.A., B.D.

FEW MAJOR CHANGES

No major changes have been made in the church since it was originally built in 1909, except for the installation of sawdust burners and an occasional redecorating job. During the past 10 years the congregation has had hopes, dreams and ideas about modernizing the interior of the church. As a result, a financial campaign was instituted in late 1961. $40,000 in pledges covering the following three years was subscribed.

Since January of this year, the building committee has been very active. This committee consisted of Mr. Gordon D. Herbert, chairman; the Rev. E. H. Birdsall, and Messrs. Harry Mitchell, W. L. Conn, Sam Pearson, Frank Griffin, Andy Anderson, Archie Glen, Al Salloum, Mrs. L. H. Gately and the late Mrs. Grace Mason.

The additions and alterations were undertaken by 12 firms under the architects, Wilding and Jones of Vancouver. The organ pipes have been covered, and a wooden cross inserted against a suitable backdrop.

REDEDICATION

The re-dedication of the renovated sanctuary of First United Church will take place tomorrow with Rev. E. H. Birdsall presiding. The guest speaker for the day will be the Rev. W. W. McPherson who left this Kelowna pulpit in 1943 to accept a call from Oak Bay United Church, Victoria, B.C. After 14 years at Oak Bay, Dr. McPherson became visiting pastor of First United Church, Victoria for three years. Presently, he does certain hospital visiting and occasional preaching in Victoria.

There will be three services tomorrow: 9:30 a.m., 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. The many friends of Dr. and Mrs. McPherson will be happy to renew their acquaintance on this memorable occasion. Friends and visitors made welcome.

A FINE

Lloyd Cobb, no fixed address, pleaded guilty in police court this morning to being intoxicated in a public place. He was fined $10 and $8.50 cost or in default, two days in jail.

FOUR IN COURT

Appearing in court Friday were four men charged with being intoxicated in a public place. Each pleaded guilty and was fined $25 and costs or 10 days. They were Robert James Marshall, no fixed address, Laszlo Mueza of Rutland, Robert Alexander Simpson of Hazelton, B.C. and Roy Peter Watson, no fixed address.

Dental Clinic Reported Slow

Local dentists have agreed to examine grade one children's teeth, since registration for pre-school clinics is low.

The school board learned that only 112 have been signed up for dental examinations before they enter school next year with the result that the clinics will be thrown open for those in the first grade who haven't been examined.

Clinics should include about 350; one more can be put out to pre-schoolers' parents to bring in their children.

GRADE ONE REPORT

Board Still Amazed
At School Enrolment

Kelowna School District 23 trustees are still shaking their heads over the startling increase in school enrolment.

At last night's School Board meeting, it was learned that bumper boost of 422, Penitton had only a 65 student increase while Vernon had 175.

As an example, there is one class of 52 pupils at Graham Avenue school which necessitated appointment of a new teacher Mrs. M. Snowsell, approved by the board.

School superintendent Frank Orme indicating the Kelowna increase meant in effect 14 new classrooms full told board members the added enrolment may mean a complete re-assessment of anticipated school figures and building plans for the next few years.

"Actually, this may be considered as normal comparing it to other areas but if this sort of increase happened two years in a row, it might be a different story," said Mr. Orme.

The grade one populations far exceeds any previous records, he said.

A pre-school survey taken in November, 1960, indicated this year would be heavy but this wasn't confirmed at last May's registration when 459 were enrolled as beginners; allowance was made for a 10-15 per cent increase to bring the total to about 520 grade ones. There are 611 to date.

FIGURES INVALID

"The large increase has made all previous population projections invalid," Mr. Orme said.

Biggest increase came in Kelowna schools and in Westbank and Winfield. Some of the boundaries within the city had to be altered to reduce some of the larger classes and although it was an inconvenience, Mr. Orme said parents concerned were understanding and cooperative.

He said Winfield can handle its increase but in Westbank, there are two or three very difficult classes which may require some relief.

Trustee from Westbank Jack Maddock drew a big laugh from the board when he said he could account for 11 new students. He said he wasn't being personal, that he was referring to two large families which had just moved into the area, one from Alberta and the other from Vancouver Island.

KJII BUSTING

Mr. Orme said the Kelowna Junior High has 746 students in a building designed for 690.

"This situation will have to be re-examined before Christmas. There is need for an additional teacher but no room for an extra division," he pointed out.

Mr. Orme partly blamed the tardy registration by some which made planning for this fall difficult.

He said another factor was fewer drop-outs between grades nine and 10 and grades 11 and 12.

"Usually we can expect 10 per cent between the first and 15 per cent between the second but it was considerably less this year," he said.

"Possibly we'll have to buy a half dozen more portables," suggested one trustee.

Tourist Group Convention In Kelowna

Next week 120 delegates from all parts of B. C. will be in Kelowna to attend the first convention of the newly-formed B. C. Tourist Association. It will take place Sept. 21 at the Capri Motor Inn, presided over by Col. George Paulin, president.

The theme of the convention will be "Making Matching Grants Work" with a full discussion on the provincial government 50-50 tourist area grants.

Featured speaker will be Vancouver Alderman Frank Baker, president of the Visitors Bureau. His subject will be "How to Raise $600 per hour for Tourist Promotion," the story behind the successful Bureau drive in which 275 new members joined in one day.

The Honorable Earle C. West, Minister, Dept. of Recreation and Conservation, will give the keynote address.

Other Thursday speakers will be C. P. Lyons, park officer, historic sites, Provincial Parks Branch, who will give an illustrated slide talk on "History on the Highway"; and R. L. Colby, Director who will report on the B. C. Government Travel Bureau.

A reception that evening will be courtesy of the Kelowna Chamber of Commerce. Friday before coffee and apple juice, W. E. Hawkins and H. J. Morley will speak on the impact of the Seattle World's Fair.

A ladies' luncheon and tour will be arranged.

Five Trustees To Be Elected

There will be five school trustees in District 23 seeking new terms on the School Board, it was learned last night.

Terms of office for Tom Carter, C. D. Buckland, Mrs. Dorothy Pelly, Ken Fulk and Dr. C. B. Holmes expire this year.

Nomination date for a slate of trustees will be held Nov. 26, same day as that of city council. The election will coincide with the Dec. 6 date set for the election of mayor and council.

Appointed returning officer was board secretary-treasurer Fred Macklin.

Six voters' lists have been placed in the area and a court of revision for any residents left off the lists and presided over by board chairman C. E. Sladen, Tom Carter and C. D. Buckland will be held Sept. 20.

Speaking at 10 and 11 a.m. services at Christ Lutheran Church during a mission festival, Rev. Kroeger will emphasize the importance of the church's mission work.

Lutheran Pastor Speaks Sunday

Rev. H. Kroeger of Winfield, father of the former pastor at Christ Lutheran Church, Rev. Ernest Kroeger and, former president of the Canadian district of the American Lutheran Church, will be guest pastor this Sunday.

Jehovah Witnesses Hold
Three Day Course Here

A three-day refresher course in Christian living began Friday night in Kelowna at the Centennial Hall on Ellis Street.

The more than 450 delegates of Jehovah's Witnesses from the North Okanagan expected to attend will be shown practical methods of effectively using Biblical knowledge to come into harmony with God's will. This will be done by discourse and demonstration.

Tonight's program will include a model ministry school which will set a pattern for all local congregations to apply to their own weekly "school". The ministry school is designed to train individual ministers to become qualified public speakers and teachers.

SUPERVISOR HERE

District Supervisor, D. M. Mills, who addresses many such conventions in British Columbia during the course of a year, arrived in town several days ago to complete arrangements for the assembly program.

"This is the first time I've had the pleasure of attending such an assembly in Kelowna and I am certainly looking forward to coming back again," said Mr. Mills.

"I would like to welcome anyone who is interested in what the Scriptures have to say about the day we are living in to join with us at any time over the weekend at Centennial Hall. All programs are free and no collection will be taken. The main discourse Sunday afternoon at three o'clock is especially timely. It is called 'Who Will Rule the World?'"

Following the convention, Mr. Mills and his wife plan to spend a week in Vernon with one of the congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses.

WILL ATTEND

Meanwhile, Robert Bickert, congregation overseer of Jehovah's Witnesses in Winfield, said today most of the congregation will be taking advantage of the proximity of the three day training program in Kelowna to attend all of the sessions which began Friday evening at Centennial Hall.

Many of the congregation will be working at various volunteer assignments during the assembly.

Mr. Bickert will be in charge of the attendants department which is responsible for seating arrangements and direction of foot traffic in Centennial Hall.

Kelowna Band Seeks Members

An executive meeting of the Kelowna Senior City Band was held this week at the home of band president, Carl Dunaway.

Following a review of concerts and engagements of the past season by acting secretary Wally Drinkwater, tentative plans for an active winter season were outlined, which included the re-summing of rehearsals Oct. 2.

During the evening coffee and sandwiches were served by Mrs. C. Dunaway, followed by a general discussion on the many and complex phases of maintaining a home-town band.

With the departure of some members to UBC the band is in need of additional personnel, and will welcome any musicians and bandmen who wish to join the Kelowna City Band.

It is hoped that all ex-bandmen will take this opportunity to resume an active interest in music however the length of time they may have been inactive.

Rehearsals begin Oct. 2, 7:30 p.m. in the band room of the Kelowna Senior High School on Harvey Avenue.

Rotary Dance For Good Cause

Pleasantville Homes will be one of the charities that will benefit from the Rotary Club's "Dancerrama" if it is a success tonight at the Kelowna Memorial Arena. All proceeds from the affair will be handed over to the many charities being sponsored by Rotarians, one of which is Pleasantville.

Featuring the live dance band of Carl Dunaway, the "Dancerrama" will offer cash prizes for winners of the "twist" competitions as well as provide music for more popular dancing. During the evening a demonstration of columbia dancing will be presented by the students of the Jean Vipond Dance Studios.

Concession booths will be open in the arena and Rotary officials are urging the public to come and watch the action even if they don't dance. Doors open at 7:30 p.m. and dancing starts at 8 p.m. Admission is $5.

REV. E. H. BIRDSALL, pastor of the First United Church in Kelowna, and Gordon D. Herbert, chairman of the church's building committee are shown inspecting the new window recently installed at the church, which is part of a $40,000 remodeling project which began in January, this year.

This Weekend?
Sunny Of Course!
First United Church
To Be Rededicated
After $40,000 Facelift

Looks like a sun-drenched weekend for the Kelowna area. Forecast is for sunny skies with light patches of cloud and temperatures at the 70 degree mark.

High cloud has spread over the northern coastal area in advance of approaching disturbances but generally the province is in good shape weatherwise.

Rain will begin along the north coast today and the precipitation area will spread south and east very slowly due to a blocking high pressure ridge, the weather synopsis said today.

First United Church as it now stands, was built by the Kelowna Presbyterians, and the cornerstone was laid in June, 1909, by the late D. W. Sutherland, father of George W. Sutherland of 515 Harvey Avenue. The late Mr. Sutherland was the first Kelowna school teacher, and later became mayor of this city. It goes without saying that he was an ardent Presbyterian.

MUSICALLY SPEAKING With BETHEL STEELE

Certainly, Teresa Stratas knows where she is going but not on the terms as laid down in a recent article.

Thursday night's Kelowna Theatre Opening concert was part of her journey toward true greatness.

This column will never forget the thrill of looking out over two seas of faces. The one at night made up of adults fulfilling and making possible a dream come true; the other, of young people who, if given the chance, will be the audience of tomorrow.

Miss Stratas will never rise to greater heights than she did in the afternoon. She paid the boys and girls the honor of treating them as adults by wearing her most beautiful gowns and singing the music they all know and love in an artistic fashion. She has opened the door for our young people to want to hear good music.

The opening night audience proved that Kelowna is hungry for beauty. It was a wonderful audience and Miss Stratas took it to her heart.

Her ability to communicate is part of her greatness.

The voice itself is colored by Miss Stratas' dramatic powers. She becomes the music she is singing and this in turn prevents us from listening for mere vocalism which is again a rarity.

Even so I found lovely things for my ears. There were times in the Spanish songs that the voice was golden in quality and the pianissimos shimmering filigree.

Miss Stratas does well to stress the middle register. Time, of which she has a very great deal, will develop the lower chest tones and give greater body to the upper register. Maturity will bring more evenness to the scale. If handled carefully and never forced, this voice should be breathtaking in its finished beauty. More control is needed for a full range of floating mezzo voice (half voice).

Miss Stratas is an operatic singer. She is petite and she is very beautiful in looks and personality. She is a fine actress. Because she is beautiful as well as possessing a fine voice she is a phenomenon. The day of the hefty prima donna is past.

As Miss Stratas said in interview, "a singer must learn to sing every kind of song." This is her next project and as she stated she was learning the Russian songs for her next tour of Russia.

She loves Lieder, particularly Strauss. Some of her loveliest singing, Thursday night, was in the Strauss "Die Damerung." She sings with the intimacy needed for Lieder. I hope I can hear her some day in Schubert and Schumann.

Puccini's O Mio Babbino Caro from Gianni Schicchi was passionately exquisite. The Pace, from Verdi's Forza del Destino was dramatic in its intensity. Maturity will provide the spiritual understanding needed for this great prayer.

Miss Stratas provided the perfect acoustical test for the new theatre. Her voice has overtones which were heard in some parts of the building and not in others. Her soft speaking voice could be heard everywhere.

Now that Kelownians know what beautiful sounds there are to be heard, it is hoped that they will get an opportunity to hear more and often. The theatre should be booked for entertainment of all kinds immediately. This is the peoples' theatre. Let's make use of it.

Kelowna Is Justifiably Proud Of New Theatre

The Kelowna Community Theatre opening on Thursday night was a tremendous success, far exceeding even the most optimistic hopes of the most enthusiastic members of the informal committee which had guided the venture through the difficult fund-raising and building stages.

Thursday evening was more than an affair to mark the completion of a project, more than a demonstration of the completion of the work of a group of dedicated people. It was a milestone in the history of the city; a regeneration of the pride-in-city of the people of Kelowna.

The people of Kelowna have every reason to be proud. They not only have a multi-use building which in design and effectiveness cannot be matched in this country outside one or two in large metropolitan centres, they have the very real satisfaction that the building is a concrete evidence of the inspiration, the work and the generosity of the people of the city as a whole. Thursday night's opening made one proud to be a citizen of a town which could and would carry through such a project.

The opening night itself was no mean achievement and of this, too, Kelowna may well be proud. To sell nearly 900 tickets at $10 each in a town the size of Kelowna appeared to be an optimistic vision. That this was actually done is a compliment not only to the committee, but to the people of this city, many of whom had previously made substantial cash donations.

There are few who attended, we believe, who were disappointed or felt they had paid too high a price for the privilege of attending. Miss Stratas was a tremendous success, the opening ceremonies were brief and inspiring, but over and above these, there was a general feeling of participating in a significant event, a feeling of history and pride.

There were many, many people who played their part in this achievement. Many made financial contributions. Others gave of their time and energy and inspiration. Carpenters, painters, electricians, city park crew and a host of other volunteer workers can say with complete honesty that they have made a substantial contribution. Others helped in less tangible but equally necessary and effective ways. The CPA, for instance, flew Miss Stratas here as a gesture of assistance. These people have every right in feeling proud of their participation in a remarkable achievement. This newspaper is proud to have contributed in some small way to the attaining of this new and potentially great asset to Kelowna. And so may we all.

But over and above all this, most credit must go to the committee which had the inspiration and the great foresight to envisage this building and what it could mean to Kelowna and, indeed, the whole Okanagan. And further, had the intestinal fortitude to attempt to sell a vision to the general public. Through three long years a handful of people, despite many disappointments and some criticism, persevered and worked and badgered until the dream became a tangible reality.

Every such group needs a leader and this group found that leader in Mr. D. Chapman. It is a truism to say that too much credit cannot be given to

Mr. Chapman. Without his drive, his enthusiasm, his tenacity and his perseverance, Thursday night would not have been possible. He has given much of himself, including his health to this project. He has made a very substantial contribution to this city and it is indeed fitting that acknowledgment of his efforts and those of the small group which surrounded him, is being recorded for posterity on a brass plaque on the building itself. Too often a man's contribution, while realized and appreciated, is quickly forgotten and it is good to know that the city has seen fit to publicly and permanently acknowledge the contribution of Mr. Chapman and his committee.

The success of Thursday night, of course, could not have been achieved without the co-operation and genius of Miss Teresa Stratas. Miss Stratas came here for half her normal fee and gave much of herself to make the opening a success. She completely captivated the capacity audiences which attended her two performances. It is not often that an artist of her stature gives two concerts in a single day, but Miss Stratas consented to give an afternoon performance for school pupils—incidentally, for which she received no remuneration.

It is regrettable that the doubters, the skeptics, the pessimists—oh, yes, we do have them here—were unable to attend that afternoon concert. Had they done so and observed the eagerness, the enthusiasm and the attentiveness of the pupils and the intentness with which they listened, these people could not have helped but wonder if here in this new building it would not be possible to fill a void among our young people by giving them something which hitherto they have craved and which has been lacking.

So now, Kelowna has a "theatre" without peer in this province other than the Queen Elizabeth in Vancouver. The building is functional and it is opened. The fact does remain, of course, that there is still much to be done.

At the moment, the building may be compared to the living room of a newly married couple which does have a couple of chairs and, perhaps, a table, but is completely devoid of those things such as a rug and ornaments which give character to the room and make it homey and livable.

More good seats are needed; carpets on the aisles; dressing room facilities; stage curtains and more stage props; the addition of the lobby and other such amenities.

Already the Little Theatre and Kelowna Productions organizations, both of which have already contributed all their assets, have undertaken to provide the curtain for the proscenium arch, no small financial undertaking.

While no more financial drives are planned or probable, perhaps with the help of individuals and organizations, the facilities still needed may be achieved within a reasonable period.

Kelowna has achieved much. It has every justification for "pointing with pride." With so much accomplished, just a little more is required to make the Theatre a completely attractive, efficient asset; a veritable jewel in the crown of the community.

In Passing

Why should man continue to add to his knowledge of the universe? He already knows far more about it than he knows what to do about it.

Another great trouble with the world is that it's becoming increasingly cluttered up with people.

"Driving a car is a privilege, not a right," says a lawyer. Few privileges are so widely and flagrantly abused.

Delinquent debtors are hitting it pretty lucky these days, as a dollar is scarcely worth what it costs to collect it from them.

Nature usually balances things. As a rule a hot-headed person has cold feet.

PACKING FRUIT IN THE OLD DAYS

GUEST EDITORIAL

The "Whirl" Of The Day

"Whirl is King and has dethroned Zeus." People who have better memories and are better able to quote the classics than I am may be annoyed at the above sentence. However incorrect it may be it expresses, I believe, the mind of too many people today. They are so caught in the "whirl" of events, that they have given up all hope that there is any meaning in life other than to engage as fully as possible in the "whirl" (the modern phrase is "rat race") and vaguely hope that "whirl" will provide the necessities of life for self and family. In other words, they are giving themselves, heart and soul and mind and strength, to "whirl," who thereby becomes their god. Those who are good at analyzing community life might even go so far as to say that "whirl is god and the Twist is a proper worship of him."

Our generation is not the first to know this condition of life. Indeed much of the experience in which the Biblical literature arose is very similar. The Hebrews knew the meaningless turmoil of being forced under the lash to make good bricks out of poor materials for an enterprise that had worth only to a stupid and arrogant Pharaoh. Later they knew the turmoil of desert life under constant threat of extinction by starvation, disease and human enemies. Still later they were nearly lost in the dizzy whirl of trying to worship the scores of gods in Canaan along with worship and service to the One Only God.

Early Christians—persecuted, displaced persons—lived in an economic and political environment that was far harder on people than ours. The upheavals in Europe in the time of the Renaissance and the Reformation were not easy times to live in. People must often have felt that Whirl had conquered Christ, and their only hope was to let themselves go in the rat-race and see what would come of it.

There is one theme, however, in the whole Biblical and Christian story that we must not overlook. The loyal neither worshipped nor ran away from Whirl. They accepted pressure and uncertainty not only as the world in which they must live but even as the world they were "called" to witness in. The reason for their life in the midst of turmoil was that they might be the living, joyous agents of the God who so loved the world (that very world of turmoil!) that He gave and sent His Son, not to condemn the world but that the world through him might be saved.

Not for them to say: "Somehow we'll ride out the storm and then be Christian." Rather they prayed incessantly and confidently that the Christ living in their personal lives and in their group life would shine forth a ray of meaning and purpose which, being seen by others, would let them know they need not worship destructive Whirl. By their lives and words they invited all, not only to see the light of meaning in Christ, but also to become a part of that living meaning in the personal and group life of the Church.

There are Christians today who live a full life in the midst of the modern pressures and turmoil but do not worship Whirl. Their lives, moment by moment, are vibrantly given in worship and service to God through Christ. These not merely know, but are the answer to Whirl who has not and never will replace the All-conquering Christ.—REV. E. H. BIRDSALL, First United Church.

REPORT FROM THE U.K.

TUC In "Wait and See" On ECM Entry By Britain

By M. MCINTYRE HOOD
Special London (Eng.) Correspondent

For The Daily Courier
LONDON—The Trades Union Congress, at its annual conference in Blackpool, upheld its national executive's policy to "wait and see" before committing itself one way or the other on Britain's entry into the European Common Market. This was expected. But what was not expected was the strong vote registered by some of the major trades unions against joining the Common Market under any conditions.

The general council of the TUC was assured in advance that its policy would be accepted by the majority of the conference votes. But it was very much surprised at the strength of the vote against the Common Market. A resolution opposing entry was presented and was debated at length and with some heat. At the end of the debate, the vote was against the resolution by 5,845,000 to 2,022,000. It was the size of this anti-market vote which gave the TUC general council a severe jolt.

THOSE AGAINST ENTRY

Prominent among those opposed to entry into the Common Market were the National Union of Railwaymen, the Electrical Trades Union, and unions of draughtsmen, clothing workers, technical civil servants, blacksmiths, and a number of the smaller unions. Most of the big unions, including the Transport and General Workers Union, voted in favor of the general council's policy and against the anti-market resolution.

This means that the Labor party, whose views are very much reflected in TUC decisions on such matters, still intends to remain on the fence and make no commitment one way or the other until the full conditions for entry are made known by the government after the negotiations are completed. This policy mechanism in the industry, is now certain to be upheld when An official of the National Federation of Building Trades Employers said:

"The industry is working flat out, especially in London and the South-East, the Midlands and the South-West. Builders seem to have come through the worst of Belyyn Lloyd's restrictions. Only in the North-East is there any cause for concern, and we are watching that area closely."

BROWN IN TROUBLE

George Brown, deputy leader of the Labor party, is in serious trouble with some of the unions. The attack on him is led by the London Typographical Society. Through its secretary, Robert Willis, who is a member of the TUC general council, it has attacked Mr. Brown for having acted as industrial adviser to the Daily Mirror publishing group during the 1950 strike of printers. Mr. Willis said:

"It would appear that while the printing unions were engaged in a long and costly struggle for better conditions and higher wages, Mr. Brown was acting as industrial adviser to the Mirror. Was he advising on the tactics to be adopted in an industrial dispute? If so, Mr. Brown should have no place within the ranks of the Labor and trade union movement."

Added to this, a London businessmen's delegate conference has unanimously endorsed a resolution of its central committee, demanding that Mr. Brown be removed from the parliamentary panel of the Transport and General Workers' Union.

The criticism of Mr. Brown may have a strong bearing on the election of the deputy-leader of the parliamentary Labor party this fall. It is known that Harold Wilson has his eyes on that post, which would make him second only to Hugh Gaitskell in the party hierarchy. These attacks on Mr. Brown might well result in Mr. Wilson realizing his ambition.

LOOKING BACK with Old Stager

Fifty Years Ago In Fruit Industry

The fruit industry was just beginning to become an important factor in the valley's economy 50 years ago. The young orchards on the benches were coming into production, and new packing-houses were springing up in various parts of the Okanagan.

REMEMBER JIM?

The Kelowna Farmers Exchange was handling an increasing volume of fruit, had a branch at Rutland diagonally across from the store and post office, and had built, at Armstrong, a substantial building on the CPR tracks, just north of McNair's warehouse. Jim Gibb was the foreman at Kelowna, a man whose ability to judge fruit was recognized across the line, for he was often asked to act as a judge at apple shows. In 1912 he was judge at the National Apple Show, Spokane, Nov. 14-17, and the Pacific North-West Land Products Show in Portland, Nov. 15-23.

The same Jim Gibb, incidentally, packed the apples with which F. R. E. Delhart had won fame for Kelowna at Spokane and other places in 1900 and 1910.

Under date of June 13, 1912 the Courier carried a report on crop conditions from George Rowcliffe, who said that "in order to cope with the enormous crop, soon to be marketed," his firm was building an up-to-date new packinghouse on the "CPR tracks." He hoped growers would "co-operate with shippers so that produce delivered would be of high standard, as a big crop was certain to entail keen competition on outside markets, and inferior articles were bound to fare badly."

In this connection he emphasized "careful thinning as most essential to produce the best results." How familiar that all sounds! Another "Courier" report says that W. R. Baker, local manager of the Vernon Fruit Union, had returned from Pentecost, where he had been supervising the construction of a packinghouse for his company. "Fruit prospects are excellent, considering how young the orchards are there," he said. The peach crop was sanguinely estimated at 80 carloads.

On August 1, 1912 the "Courier" carried a report of the shipping of the first car of peaches, cots and plums on Tuesday, July 30, by the Kelowna Farmers Exchange, and forecast an astounding car a day for the next week! Mixed cars of fruit and vegetables to the total of 17 had already been shipped by the KFE, from Kelowna and Armstrong the previous week.

FIRST SHIPMENT

Another item mentions the Exchange receiving the first shipment of fruit from West bank, made by Messrs. L. L. Lake and J. Moffatt and said that they would soon need a branch packinghouse there. A new item also tells of the local branch of the VFTU, filling a special order for a civic banquet at Calgary, in honor of HRH the Duke of Connaught. Twelve crates of the choicest apples, plums and peaches were sent, and some very fine melons, grown by Messrs. Palmer and Rogerson.

Packinghouses 50 years ago bore little resemblance to the modern, large, mechanized buildings of today, with their cold storages, their graders, bulk bins, fork lifts, belts and gravity tracks. The 1912 buildings were small, often not much more than an oversized shed, smelling strongly of a mixture of fruit and box shuck. (The familiar smell of shuck is rapidly disappearing from the modern houses, being replaced with the musty smell of cardboard.)

THREE KINDS

Three kinds of boxes were in use around 50 years back, there was the old long, narrow box, used mostly for export, the new "Oregon" box, which became the standard for almost half a century, and the heavy, back-breaker, "Orchard Box," in which the growers picked their fruit. Employees in the plant were all men, or boys, and the boxmen were making big money, using the new-fangled American contraption called a "hall stripper."

The packers did their own sorting, for size, color and grade, working at a "table," with a top made of canvas or seaking, into which two or three boxes of apples were dumped. He usually packed two boxes at a time, of different grades or sizes, unless the fruit was exceptionally good, and uniform in size.

LARGE FRUIT

In those days the fruit generally ran large, coming as it did from young trees. Some of the varieties, like the new "Winter Banana," would only make three tiers in a box, and would take three papers to wrap each apple.

Many varieties of apples were handled in considerable quantities then, have disappeared from present-day packing-house. Amongst early apples were the Astrakhan, both striped and red, and the big juicy Gravensteins. Then there were the main crop Jonathans, one of the best apples and a good keeper in those days, before "breakdown" killed its reputation. Late varieties were Wagners, Baldwins, Ontarios, Northern Spies, Grimes Golden, Malden, Blush, Bellefleur, Greenings, Snows, and Ben Davis. I put the "Ben" last, where it belongs, it had the delicate aroma and luscious juiciness of a piece of cork! It's only good point was its long keeping quality, when all the other apples had rotted, there was still the "Ben!"

AUTOMATION NOW

Yes, the fruit shipping and packing business has changed greatly over the years. Mechanization has made great changes of course, but the personnel has changed too. Women have taken over the sorting and packing, men retaining only the receiving and shipping.

The First World War started the change, for I remember coming home on leave from the Army, dropping into the packinghouse and seeing a line of girls and young women busily wrapping apples. It was a bit of a jolt! Something that would have been unthinkable previously. It just wasn't done, you know! I received another jolt when I saw a couple of young huskies smoking at recess! The next thing you knew they would be wanting the vote too!

All joking apart, though, the packinghouses are a better place to work in, due to the feminine influence, and two pay cheques coming into a household can be a big help. The growers too, are far better off than those of 1912, though few there may be to admit it!

Ulcer Diet High Fats

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: In 1956 I developed a duodenal ulcer and my doctor put me on a diet to cure it. The treatment was successful, but I have gained about 40 pounds and every time I diet the ulcer flares up. Is there any kind of diet I can follow without bothering the ulcer?—MRS. F. J. The typical ulcer diet is high in fats—milk, cream, cream soups.

However, the diet needn't be so rigid, nor so heavily laden with fat. Skimmed milk instead of whole milk or milk-and-cream can be used for intermediate feedings. For desserts, use gelatin, sherberts or ices instead of puddings.

And above all remember that diet isn't the whole story. Keep caffeine drinks, smoking and alcohol at a minimum because they make ulcers flare up. Frequent small feedings are important. Avoid spicy condiments. Judicious medication, emotional control, and avoiding tension and fatigue are other important aspects. Get all of these factors working for you to keep the ulcer under control, and you then have moderate leeway to reduce the amount of fat in the diet.

Dear Dr. Molner: What is nasopharyngitis?—M.O.

It means inflammation of nose and adjacent throat areas—"nasal" for nose; "pharyngeal" for pharynx; and "itis" for inflammation.

Dear Dr. Molner: What is meant when a school psychiatrist says a child is "immature"? One told me my son was more than mentally capable for his school work yet was quite immature.—MRS. J.

"Immature" can have both a physical and an emotional meaning. It can mean that a child, although healthy, may be delayed in reaching puberty or in developing secondary sex characteristics—deepening of the voice, changes in the figure, etc.

Or it may refer just to emotional matters—again having no relation to intelligence. A child may have brains to spare for classwork, yet not be sociable in games, or not know how to cope with teasing, or not be able to adjust to the normal mixing of youngsters. He's immature, he "hasn't begun to grow up," in these things.

Dear Dr. Molner: Could a person have had spinal meningitis and after 14 years have tuberculosis caused from it? Is there any relation between the two?—N.M.K.

Meningitis, or inflammation of the lining of the brain and spinal cord, can be caused by a variety of germs, TB among them. When the TB germ causes illness, treatment usually succeeds in eliminating it to the degree of preventing a relapse. Hence there probably is no connection between the meningitis and TB 14 years apart. (The meningitis may well have been from some entirely different type of germ.)

AROUND TOWN

Visiting Kelowna to attend the opening of the new Community Theatre Thursday evening was Miss Anne Adamson, drama adviser to the Department of Education, Victoria, who stayed at the Royal Anne Hotel.

Mrs. Jean Price of Vancouver, sister of Canadian baritone Donald Bell who is at present singing in London, also travelled to Kelowna to attend the Teresa Stratas concert.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Terrence of Vancouver are enjoying a month's holiday in Kelowna with their son Peter. Terrence is a well known Coast architect.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hill of Lakeview Heights returned on Wednesday from a motor trip to the Coast where they drove their daughter Beverly and Miss Judy Giroux who commenced their nursing training course at Saint Joseph's Hospital, Victoria on September 11th. En route to Victoria they visited the World's Fair in Seattle for a few days.

Mrs. S. M. Simpson returned on Thursday for a week's visit to Campbell River accompanied by Mrs. W. J. Logie who will be her guest for the next ten days. Mrs. Logie is a well known former Kelownian.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Prior and son Glenn left Friday, Sept. 14, 1962 to drive to Calgary where they will depart by jet to Toronto then to Windsor where Mr. Prior will attend the tri-annual C.P.E. (Canadian Postal Employees) Conference. While in Toronto they will visit Mr. Prior's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Purches. During their two week absence their home will be occupied by Miss Mary Harman.

Miss Marion Sutherland returned to the Coast last week to resume her studies at UBC. During the summer months she has been employed at the Okanagan Regional Library.

Reverend Dr. and Mrs. W. W. McPherson are the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon D. Herbert, Ethel Street. Dr. McPherson who was pastor of the congregation from 1932 to 1943, will take part in the re-dedication of the renovated sanctuary of the First United Church on Sunday.

FAMILY REUNION
Mrs. P. Herbst returned this week from a seven week's holiday in Eastern Canada. Traveling east via Regina where she visited her sister for a few days, she enjoyed a family reunion in Toronto which was also attended by her aunt Mrs. Henry Jost from Hamburg, Germany and by two cousins from Europe who now live in Canada but whom she had not seen for thirty five years.

In Toronto she also renewed acquaintances with many old school friends and visited her step son, Mr. John Herbst and his wife and family before traveling on to Morin Heights where she spent a month as the guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. C. Schwab and family while awaiting the birth of her newest granddaughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Yuros of Wainman, Alberta have been visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Yuros, Taylor Road.

Travelling to Kelowna to attend the Madras-Nelson wedding were Miss Sue Powell, Miss Myra Schultz and Miss Sandy Bunch from Portland, Oregon.

Mrs. Marie Tricker of Creston, B.C. is the guest of her sister, Mrs. van Ochten.

Pastor and Mrs. Kuester of Mission City, B.C. were the guest speakers at the Kelowna Seventh-day Adventist church last weekend.

Recent visitors to the Okanagan Academy district have been Mrs. Debie Berg and Mrs. Irene Kozak from Peoria, Alberta; Pastor and Mrs. R. A. Hubley from Penticton; Miss Florence Johnston from Newfoundland, the Misses Shirley Norton, Nadine Comm, Beverly Siebel from Alberta, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Mobey from Sidney, B.C. and Miss Carolyn Lowry from India who will be teaching at the Okanagan Academy this year.

OKANAGAN MISSION

The fire crew of the Okanagan Mission Fire Society spent Wednesday evening helping to lay the new floor in the Scout Hall. The floor which to date has been of plywood, has been cold, and difficult to keep clean, so the new floor will be a big improvement. The Society, which is filling a definite need in the community, has answered nine calls since December. There have been several chimney fires, and recently two small bush fires, which could have had serious consequences had they not been stopped at an early stage.

The Father Pandosy Circle met on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. J. MacLennan, Eldorado Road. Plans were made for the Bazaar. The new president and secretary, Mrs. C. Flaherty, took over. The next meeting will be held on October 1st at the home of Mrs. D. Northrop, Radnor Road.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Painter and Mr. Michael Painter, Crichton Road, travelled as far as Calgary recently over the new Rogers Highway. They also visited the Columbia Ice fields.

Travelling over the Rogers Pass last week were Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Barrett, and Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Lennie, Braeloch Rd.

Mrs. P. MacArthur of Vancouver spent last weekend with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Lennie.

LEIGH TO WED

JUAREZ, Mex. (AP)—Janet Leigh is here to obtain a Mexican divorce. Friends say she'll marry stockbroker Bob Brandt Saturday in Las Vegas, Nev. The 11-year marriage of Miss Leigh and actor Tony Curtis was ended by divorce in California, but the interlocutory decree does not become final until next July. A Mexican divorce is effective immediately.

Kelowna Community Theatre Has Gala 'Opening Night'

By FLORA EVANS

Kelowna was in gala array on Thursday evening for the opening of the new Community Theatre with a concert by Canadian soprano, Teresa Stratas. The city band playing the entrance to the theatre, the interviews over the mike on the lovely theatre patio, which will some day be glassed in to form a luxurious foyer, and the red jackets of the Mounties in the background, all added an exciting festive air to the occasion.

Mink stoles, capes, and lovely furs of all descriptions had their first fall outing of the year, and the glamorous hairdos and lovely gowns of the ladies upheld Kelowna's reputation for well dressed women. A few of the particularly lovely ensembles I noticed as the pre-concert parties entered the theatre were:

LOVELY GOWNS

Mrs. David Allan in a dress of black peau de sole with a bell-shaped skirt draped over a black lace and taffeta underskirt complimented with a cape of natural ermine. Mrs. Allan is past president and present vice-president of the Overture Concert Association. Mrs. Guy DeHart, wearing a natural mink stole with an Italian model gown of black with a cut velvet motif on the bodice and a gathered chiffon skirt. Mrs. DeHart and Mrs. Fredrick Jones, who wore a draped model dress of mink peau de sole and ermine jacket, were co-ordinators of the concert program.

Miss Gwyneth Lloyd, looking very smart in a bronze satin sheath dress with a China mink jacket. Miss Lloyd was in charge of the ushers. Mrs. J. Bruce Smith in a stunning blue and gold brocade theatre suit topped with a bland mink stole. Mrs. Smith is president of the Kelowna Art Exhibit Society.

Mrs. Joe Capozzi looking lovely in a cream and gold lame dinner dress with a very bouffant skirt, and wore a stole of breath-of-spring mink. Mrs. J. A. Rankine in a sparkling white sheath dress topped with a glamorous white fox evening jacket. Mrs. Robert Hedley wearing a smart black pleated dress and matching three-quarter-length black coat embroidered with silver sequins. Mrs. Gloria Mildenburger in a black chiffon dress with the new semi-flared skirt and a white fur stole.

Mrs. Stewart Walker looking lovely in an emerald green velvet sheath and fur stole. Mrs. Harold Long in a glamorous gold lame evening dress and mink cape.

OFFICIAL OPENING

The Royal Canadian Legion Pipe Band piped the Mayor and Aldermen, Jack Treadgold, C. A. M. Lipsett, E. R. Winter and Dennis Crookes to the patio where Mayor Parkinson, dressed in his official robes and chain, was presented with the key to the theatre by committee president, Mr. David Chapman, after which one piper and then the pipe band played the four aldermen to their seats and the Mayor was piped down the opposite aisle to the stage. Following a speech concerning the fund raising and building of the theatre by Mr. Chapman, Mayor Parkinson cut the ribbon officially opening the theatre.

Adding to the color of the occasion were the pretty ushers from the Canadian School of Ballet who wore their white classical ballet dresses with wreaths of white flowers in their hair. Miss Lloyd, who was in charge of the ushers, must have been happy indeed to see the completion of the large new stage ready for future ballet productions.

ENDEARING ARTIST
Miss Stratas' singing I will not attempt to describe. Her voice which flows like rich cream has an equally lovely timbre in all registers and an exceptionally wide range. It is not surprising that she is considered one of the Metropolitan Opera's most promising and valuable assets. Her delightful, well chosen program—which to my joy did not play down to the small city audience as so outstanding enthusiastic reception, and her intimate manner of recounting the stories of the program endeared her to the audience's hearts.

During the concert she wore two very lovely gowns which I understand she designed and made herself. The first, a sea-green period gown falling into a slight train behind to add the illusion of height to the diminutive Miss Stratas was trimmed with silvery white embroidery in a leaf motif sparkling with rhinestones, which descended across the front of her gown from one shoulder to a wide band circling the very full skirt. For the second half of the program she chose a dress of American beauty chiffon with a hand-printed pattern in black around the bottom of the border of the full skirt which possessed an educated matching overskirt which Miss Stratas flicked out behind her in a most intriguing manner whenever she left the stage.

PRESENTATIONS

At the close of the concert, Kelowna's Lady of the Lake, Ruth Gillespie, dressed in her formal white gown and rhinestone crown presented the art-opogogo.

ist with a basket of red and white roses and made a short speech of thanks. Mayor Parkinson then presented a silver souvenir spoon to Madame Emilie Rublev, the soprano's superb accompanist, and to Miss Stratas he presented a silver compact embossed with Kelowna's coat of arms and inscribed with a message of thanks and affection.

In a very gracious unhearsaid speech complimenting Kelowna on our theatre and the amazing community effort, championed by Mr. Chapman, which built it, Miss Stratas said she had been delighted to appear at our 'first night', in doing so and adding the children's concert in the afternoon I feel sure that Miss Stratas has won a permanent place in the heart of all Kelownians, who will from now on follow her career with as great enthusiasm as if she were our own, as indeed she is now by adoption.

The colorful evening closed with the unveiling of a plaque honoring Mr. Chapman and his committee which will be installed in the theatre and Mr. Chapman then became the first resident of Kelowna to be presented with the order of the Opogogo.

Nothing New About Sniping At Presidents' Families

WASHINGTON (AP)—Jackie Kennedy may find some comfort in recalling that wives of presidents before her were targets of criticism, too.

Dolley Madison once heard a male critic deride her as "fat, forty, but not fair."

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt was accused of a wide range of faults, including stirring up racial hatred, meddling in politics, talking too much, being too informal, and espousing causes.

Mrs. Bess Truman's biggest public ruckus came over accepting an invitation to a tea given by the Daughters of the American Revolution at the time Negro pianist Hazel Scott was denied use of the society's Constitution Hall. Mrs. Roosevelt had resigned from the society in 1958 to protest exclusion of Negro soprano Marian Anderson from the same stage.

As the latest target, Mrs. Kennedy drew the ire of a Baptist minister in Colorado and a London newspaper during her vacation in Bavello, Italy.

The clergyman disapproved of public, photographed appearances in bathing suits by Mrs. Kennedy and her husband, the president. He said they appeared badly thrown decorum, dignity and decency overboard.

The newspaper also appealed to Mrs. Kennedy to give up what it called the madness of water skiing with her four-year-old daughter, Caroline.

Author Damned By Faint Praise

LONDON (CP)—A British literary critic says that youthful Montreal author Diane Giguere has genuine talent, and "if she lets it develop naturally she may one day do something very good."

The comment comes from Olivia Manning, writing in The Sunday Times. Her review is of Miss Giguere's first novel, recently published in Britain under the title Innocence.

Miss Manning says the style is "solemn, fulsome and lurid," as one would expect from a young writer. The translation into English is by Peter Green. The novel was published in Canada last autumn under the title Le Temps des Jeux. Miss Giguere promptly won a literary award and was described as Canada's Francoise Sagan.

ANN LANDERS

Take Back Your Son

Dear Ann Landers: Four years ago my husband and I were divorced. The court awarded me custody of our two children. Last year the boy (who was then 13) became hard to handle. Whenever I attempted to correct him he'd telephone his dad and say I was mistreating him. Finally I couldn't take it any longer so I told him he could live with his dad if he wanted to. The next day his dad came for him, bag and baggage.

A few months later my ex-husband married a woman who apparently doesn't care for children. She and my son got along poorly. The boy lost no time in telephoning me to complain that his dad always took her side.

This week the boy called twice and asked to come home. My husband phoned yesterday and begged me to take the boy back. My daughter, who is now 13, says I should let him sweat it out over there as payment for the way he hurt my feelings when he left. What do you say?

—UNDECIDED
Dear Undecided: What kind of a mother are you that you'd take advice of a 13-year-old on such a matter?

Tell your son you want him back. And do everything in your power to make him feel loved and welcome.

Dear Ann Landers: My five-year-old son starts kindergarten soon. I have two younger children at home and I'm unable to take the boy to school. There are two busy streets which must be crossed.

I have asked a neighbor girl who is 12 to take the child to school every morning and bring him home. She agreed, which relieves my mind, considerably. My problem is this: Should I pay the girl a set amount, or buy her a gift at the end of the term? If you feel the girl should be paid, what amount do you suggest? If a gift would be in better taste, what shall I buy? I want her to know I appreciate her looking after my son. Thank you Ann.—OTTAWA, ONTARIO

Dear Ottawa: This young girl has agreed to take on a demanding job. I think it would be wise to pay her every week. Not only will the payment be an incentive. It will also be a reminder of her continuing responsibility.

Twenty cents a day (which means chaperoning both to and from school) would be about right. Speak to her mother first, however, and get her approval.

Dear Ann: Last winter my sister-in-law invited my husband and me to Sunday dinner. I made it clear we couldn't be there until 5:30 p.m. She said it would be all right—they would wait.

We arrived at 5:40. They had just finished eating and my sister-in-law was clearing the table. She said "Oh, hi!" as if we had dropped in unexpectedly and added, "Can I fix you a sandwich?"

My husband and I were embarrassed to death. We sat down and had a sandwich and a glass of iced tea. Soon after, my husband (her brother) made an excuse that we had to leave early. He was furious and didn't wish to stay.

She has called a dozen times since inviting us to dinner and I have run out of excuses. Shall I tell her why I don't want to accept another invitation in her home?—JOYCE

Dear Joyce: It's too bad you didn't tell her exactly how you felt that very Sunday. You wasted a lot of energy making up all those excuses.

Your letter doesn't indicate much of a relationship between you and your sister-in-law. Your husband apparently likes her even less. I'm for leveling with people—relatives or not.

FUR AND FABRIC

By TRACY ADRIAN
One of the highlights of the Marquise collection for autumn is this chic costume that teams fur and fabric. All in shades of taupe, the outfit combines a jacket of Alaskan hairsal with a two-piece dress of imported English wool. The overblouse is collarless and has long, fitted sleeves and the jacket closes at the neckline with a button-on scarf.

SKIERS ON SILVER STAR will be happy this year ... and so will the RCMP. For the first time a telephone will be available at the chalet with direct hookup, 24-hour service, to the Allison Hotel.

Skiers will be able to arrange for transportation and reservations but more important injured slope downers will get immediate attention. Before it took more than an hour to get word of a mishap to downtown Vernon.

WHEN, OH WHEN WILL THE CITY'S traffic department wake up? Yield right of way signs are still with us and they're a menace to safe driving. This week, three near crashes occurred at 31st and 31st, simply because no one cared enough to "yield." Traffic experts have long advocated junking yield signs other than on major highways. Perhaps it will come here — give it time.

DO YOU KNOW THE FAVORITE TV show of registered nurses?

Ben Casey you say ... with a wry grin? Well that just happens to be right ... at least for two nightingales in town. They never miss an episode and claim it quite authentic.

And all the time we thought Dr. Casey's ranting and raving and blasting other doctors in front of patients was just never done in hospitals.

However, the nurses assured us that such is definitely the case in training hospitals, and the antics are often a lot worse than depicted on the square eye. Live and learn — Wot?

NATIONAL JAYCEE WEEK jumps off Monday and the local organization will focus attention on their activities. If you are a young man between 18 - 40 (40 is young?) You are eligible.

ON AGES — It's interesting to know that the criteria used by Associated Press is: young until he's past 35, middle age from 35 to 65 and over 65—elderly. So who's middle age in the Jaycee organization?

THIS ITEM APPEARED in a Vancouver newspaper: "The three ministers function like a well-drilled basketball or soccer team, passing the ball quickly and surely from hand to hand." Come on now! Anyone who knows anything about soccer knows it is illegal for any player except the goalkeeper to use his hands.

FOR ASTUTE SHOPPERS and cheese eaters ... take in the Armstrong Exhibition. In the show mart cheese is selling at 50-cents a pound ... about 30-cents cheaper per pound than in local super markets. Hurry though, bargain ends tonight with the fair.

AS WE SAID A COUPLE of weeks ago, a few businessmen in town formed a club to have a famous landmark moved in the city. But it appears to have bogged down for lack of support. The project: move Cenotaph Park to Polson Park and convert the square opposite the fire hall to a parking lot. The effort is not dead — it's just sick.

AND A HAPPY ANNIVERSARY Sunday to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Batten who celebrate 50 years of marriage.

The exhibition ends tonight and was highlighted by a parade featuring Okanagan Valley floats and beauties including Miss PNE, Diane Davison of Vernon. (Courier staff photo)

McKinley-Foster Wedding Celebrated in Armstrong

ARMSTRONG (Correspondent) — A pretty wedding with pink and white streamers and a pretty wedding with pink organza over taffeta, with full skirts, trimmed with three deep tucks and satin ribbon. They featured cap sleeves and sweetheart necklines. They wore single- and double-breasted dresses of white tulle, with lace embroidery trim. The bride carried a basket of assorted flowers and her headpiece was a wreath of white flowers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a full-length gown of white sweet-heart satin, featuring a full skirt with pointed waistline front and back, and lily-point sleeves. The bodice and skirt were trimmed with lace and sequin inserts, and lace trimmed the neckline of the gown. The bride carried a white prayer book with red rosebuds. Her single strand of cultured pearls was a gift of the groom. Her chapel-length veil was held by a two-tiered crown set with pearls.

Miss Shirley Foster was her sister's maid of honor, while bridesmaids were Mrs. Donna Walsh of Clinton, and Miss Linda Johns, of Victoria. The attendants wore identical Baskets of pink and white asters and gladioli decorated the church with pink and white carnations on the altar.

The ring bearer wore white dinner jacket as did the best man, Neil McKinley of Edmonton while Mervyn Foster of Armstrong, the bride's brother and Bill Eschom of Calgary were ushers.

Soloist during the signing of the register was David Stubbs of Armstrong who sang The Lord's Prayer.

About 200 guests attended the reception held in the recreation hall. The hall was decorated

For their honeymoon trip to the northern States, Banff and Calgary, the bride wore a peacock blue suit with beige accessories, and ared rose corsage.

On their return the couple will take up residence in Salmon-Arm.

Out-of-town guests were from Alberta, Coastal points, Interior centres, and from Okanagan Valley centres.

TWO DENIED PARTICIPATION IN MEET

Lumby Up In Arms Over Legion Ruling

LUMBY (Correspondent) — Ten proof of amateur standing. Two Lumby athletes were denied participation in the Royal Canadian Legion junior olympic finals in Vancouver because they held Amateur Athletic Union of Canada cards it was charged, and this town is up in arms over the ruling.

Boxing Coach Jim Jenkins maintains the AAU cards were issued to all boys participating in golden glove boxing tournaments as proof they are amateurs, and the boys—Harold Sommerfeld and Marcel Charest—should have been allowed to enter.

A ruling at the coast forbids athletes to enter track if they are recognized boxers of the AAU.

Mr. Jenkins asks: "If these boys are good at both boxing and track, why can't they participate in both? It is absolutely ridiculous when actually they are the only ones who hold writing at the golden glove tournament in Vancouver and upheld his school with a shot-put record for the Valley.

N. J. Farrell, honorary secretary of the AAU, in a letter to Mr. Jenkins said: "I do not understand how anyone who is a qualified registered athlete would be barred from competing in an AAU sanctioned meet, which I assume the Olympic finals were. I would suggest you take this matter up with the U.C. branch committee who will forward the question to our national registration committee."

Armed with the Vancouver address Mr. Jenkins plans to do just that. However he will also ask: "Why no track shoes?"

Despite protests, the rule stands and coaches contend it be a handicap to participant from interior points. "The kids have to run in bare or stocking feet to try and overcome their handicap," Mr. Jenkins said.

The matter will also be discussed at the next meeting of Lumby branch of the Legion. One Legionaire, Bob Fosbery has expressed his sentiments. He says: "If rain forces them to indoor tracks at the Coast, then the finals should be moved into the interior. It is a good project and it should be done right."

BLAME TESTS — An increase in the cost of radioactive iodine 131 in fresh milk—has been registered in Norway in the last two weeks it was disclosed today. But Thorleif Hinden, chief of research at the defense research establishment here, said the level did not represent any danger to human life.

Man Charged On Theft Of Liquor VERNON (Staff) — A Manitoba man has been charged with breaking and entering and theft in connection with the Lumby Government Liquor Store robbery this week.

John Henry Saville, 32, was apprehended by police in a stolen car owned by Lumby Hotelman Garth Tubman. He had in his possession liquor valued at $47.50. He will also be charged with theft of the automobile police said.

VOYAGE PUT OFF LONDON (AP) — Lack of money and other difficulties have forced postponement of Dr. Earle Reynolds' nuclear protest voyage to Russia, sponsors said today. Reynolds, 52, professor of anthropology at Hiroshima Women's College in Japan, and a crew of 15 had been scheduled to sail today in the 48-foot ketch Everyman III.

PLANES COLLIDE BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Two light planes collided at an altitude of 150 feet today while coming in for landings on an air park strip. The planes then hurtled to the ground out of control. No one was badly injured. There were four persons in one of the planes and one in the other. The planes were going about 50 miles an hour when one, piloted by William Schroer, a Buffalo policeman, came down on the tail section of the other.

Mercury Plays Havoc With Gardens ENDERBY (Correspondent) — Cold night temperatures have played havoc on garden produce here.

Most serious damage was done to the corn crops. Flower gardens have also suffered serious frost damage as the temperatures have dipped below 30 degrees.

At the same time livestock is being protected from coyotes and cougar known to be in the low areas because of the cold.

Police Court VERNON (Staff) — Lawrence Chayha was fined $15 and costs in police court here Friday by Magistrate Frank Smith for driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated.

Walter James Pusharenko was fined $10 and costs for driving an automobile with inadequate mufflers. He pleaded not guilty to the charge and conducted his own defence.

Leo Offer For Gary Ridiculed

TORONTO (CP) — Fullback Gary Schneider reaffirmed his decision to stay in Eastern Canada to continue law studies Friday while British Columbia Lions and Toronto Argonauts haggled over a trade involving the 28-year-old football star.

The Lions, in the Western Football Conference, turned down a Toronto offer to trade Schneider for import end Ron Stover and Canadian defensive halfback Brian Aston.

Schneider, a defensive specialist, says his future in law "is in the East."

PISTOL HOTSHOTS

The Kelowna Pistol Club marked the end of their official shooting year this week.

This year has seen the club advance greatly in all fields of pistol shooting. It has also seen the beginning of the best outdoor safety ranges in the country.

The number of Dominion Marksmen Association awards won during the past season points up a standard of shooting which some of the older club members did not think possible at the outset.

On the debit side of the picture, the club suffered a great loss in the departure of its president, Frank Fickett, who was a driving force behind the club. Also the lack of competition outside the members has hurt the organization.

Final competition of the year will be held Sunday, Sept. 30 at 1 p.m. This shoot will include the Grand Aggregate, the Potterton Pin and the team shoot. All members are requested to attend.

Final week ending Sept. 13, 1962.

EDMONTON (CP) — Coachyards on eight carries to pace on an 83-yard run after fullback Jim Trimble of Hamilton Tiger-Cats says he doesn't want to be clicked on 11 of 17 passes for 171 yards. Faloney missed on one of two convert attempts.

Tommy-Joe Coffey, who now leads the WFC scoring race first downs to 17 for Hamilton, with 77 points, scored a touch-down fullback Johnny Bright down on a 47-yard pass-and-run carried 19 times for 94 yards, play in the opening quarter and while Don Getty, like Cosentino converted both Edmonton on a Western Ontario alumnus, hit scores to pace the Eskimos.

Defensive back Grant McKee, Georgia took a 10-yard pass a second-year Canadian, scored from Getty in the second quarter for the other Edmonton touchdown.

Edmonton led 7-0 at the end of the first quarter, 14-7 at the half and took a 15-13 margin in the final 15 minutes.

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Bright sunny weather, with heavy seas, was the prospect for the opening America's Cup yacht race today between U.S. defender Weatherly and Gretel, the Australian challenger.

The weather bureau said it would be sunny and mild and that the wind would range between 15 and 20 knots with occasionally higher gusts. Small craft warnings were in effect. The race was scheduled to start at 12:10 p.m. EDT.

STUDY LAPPS — The Finnish government will carry out demographic and sociological studies of the northern Laplanders.

Jack Davies is accustomed to people making all sorts of charges about the British Empire Games Association of Canada playing politics, favoring men going to Perth to 13 from one sport over another and so on. It isn't so, says the Mont-real sportsman.

Some disgruntled folks started throwing stones at the 1960 Olympics when Davies, president of the Toronto Argonaut Rowing Club, wanted the Argonaut up of Canada's team to the Games in Perth next November and Bart Hildebrand added to her was announced after trials. Davies, president of the BEG nauts would finance the cost of association, can't do anything about it.

He has a pat answer for these people: Talk to the sports governing bodies concerned. It is their business.

Davies explained the situation in a telephone interview.

Before the 1960 Olympics were held in Rome, he said, officials of the sports-governing bodies, they should not be able to buy their way on to the team. Australia got together with BEG officials. The idea was to go with their club paying the tentative numerical strength of each sport.

TROUBLE IN CAMP

Punch Won't Pay; Big M Won't Play

TORONTO (CP) — How much is Frank Mahovlich worth to the National Hockey League's Toronto Maple Leafs?

According to statistics, which often make or break a professional athlete, the big leftwinger should be one of the highest-paid players in the NHL. However, general manager and coach Punch Imlach doesn't think Mahovlich is worth what the player is demanding.

The two men reached disagreement two days ago at Peterborough, Ont., where the Leafs are holding their pre-season training camp.

The Big M left the camp late at night and returned to his home here.

AT LOGGERSHEADS — "I won't return to camp until they (Leafs) get in touch with me," said Mahovlich Friday.

"As far as I'm concerned, the next move is up to him," retorted Imlach while admitting Mahovlich deserves a raise.

Looking at statistics, Mahovlich is certainly the Leafs' best producer.

In the five seasons he has been with the club, he has scored 142 goals and set up another 138 for 280 points. His percentage of Leafs' total goal-out-put in those five terms is 13.6.

Only six other players in the league have scored more goals than Mahovlich in the last five years. They are Jean Beliveau of Montreal Canadiens scored 136 goals, Andy Bathgate of New York Rangers and Dick Moore of Montreal, 133, Bernie Geoffrion of Montreal, 132, Bobby Hull of Chicago Black Hawks, 151, and Gordie Howe of Detroit Red Wings, 149.

Last season Mahovlich scored 33 goals.

IMLACH CAN ARGUE — Taking things other than statistics into account, Imlach might have a good argument.

On at least one occasion Mahovlich has been in Imlach's dog-house for what the coach termed, in effect, laziness.

Now, Imlach has to consider everything — figures, Mahovlich's potential, whether the player will shake his tendency to go into mid-season slumps, and so on. Mahovlich is reported to be asking about $30,000 for the season.

Vernon Golfer Leader In Okanagan

Doreen Wallington of Vernon was the low medalist in Friday's round of the Okanagan Mainline Ladies' Golf Championship here with an 85.

Two strokes off the pace in second place was Marilyn Palmer of Kamloops with an 87. She is the daughter of Osoyogo winner Rod Palmer.

Mrs. Walker of the host club was in third spot with a 91.

The second round of the match play will be played today with the finals slated for Sunday afternoon.

CALL TO SPIRITUAL RENEWAL

Illustrated Sunday School Lesson

By Alfred MacEachern

Late in the fifth century B.C. a prophet called Malachi rose up and rebuked the people of Judah once more. He chastized the priests for offering cheap sacrifices and leading the people astray.

—Malachi 1:6-2:9.

The people themselves he rebuked for the moral laxity which had replaced their early enthusiasm. Divorce had become prevalent, and with it the custom of marrying foreign women.

—Malachi 2:10-17.

He also chastized the people for robbing God, by not bringing their whole tithes to the storehouse. The Lord wanted this tenth part of their possessions as proof of their recognition of His love.

—Malachi 3:7-12.

Malachi also promised the Lord's forgiveness with reformation, as he promised His recognition of the small group who had remained faithful and God-fearing.

—Malachi 3:16-18.

Church May Ask Probing Of Divorce

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — The general council of the United Church of Canada will consider proposals calling for a royal commission to probe the possibility of expanding grounds for divorce in Canada.

An exhaustive study of marriage and divorce by a church commission suggests desertion, cruelty and insanity be considered grounds for divorce, along with adultery.

The 60,000-word report — released in advance of presentation to the council Monday — makes clear that the church is primarily concerned with strengthening the family as the basic unit of Canadian society. Approval of the recommendations would mean that the church is departing from its traditional stand that adultery is the only grounds for divorce.

Among other recommendations, the commission says the minimum legal age for marriage without parental consent should be 21 for both bride and groom. For marriage with consent it should be 17 for the bride and 18 for the groom.

In Ontario, the minimum age without consent is 18, with the same ages allowable in Manitoba and New Brunswick. In Prince Edward Island the age is 21 for the groom and 18 for the bride, while in all other provinces, it is 21 for both.

Seventy per cent of Prince Edward Island's more than 100,000 people live in rural areas.

Latrine Soldier Is 'Key Worker'

FARNBOROUGH, England (AP) — A member of an RAF latrine detail said today he can't get a discharge because he's classed as a key worker.

LAC Tim Mahoney said: "How the air ministry can say this is a key job beats me."

"I spend five days a week, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., cleaning out lavatories, cleaning windows and polishing up the place."

Mahoney's enlistment has four years to run.

Mahoney said he had asked to get out on compassionate grounds "but all along the line they told me I'm too valuable to be released."

"For some reason they think I'm a key man."

UNITED CHURCH GROUP SAYS

Little Or No Progress In Talks With Anglicans

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — A committee on Protestant unification in the United Church of Canada reported today that two years of negotiations with the Anglican Church of Canada have bogged down on the status of the clergy.

A report to the governing general council of the United Church says "little, if any, progress" is being made because of differences on the authority of non-episcopal ministers compared with the bishop-ordained ministers of the Anglican Church.

"No further step forward seems possible until some form of mutual recognition of ministries is reached and the acceptance on the part of both communions on the validity of both ordained ministers."

But the committee said talks should continue. The report also suggests an "informal" approach on union to the Presbyterian Church in Canada — the group that remained outside the 1925 merger of Presbyterians, Methodists and Congregationalists as the United Church.

The United Church report underlined disagreement on the ministry more heavily than a report by the Anglican counterpart committee presented three weeks ago at the Anglican general synod in Kingston.

The Anglican committee's comment on the clergy issue merely quoted a joint Anglican-United Church statement which says "the subject of the ministry holds a crucial position" in negotiations.

The United Church committee chairman is Dr. A. B. Moore, president of Victoria College in the University of Toronto. His Anglican counterpart is Rt. Rev. G. P. Gower, bishop of New Westminster, B.C.

The possibility of three-cornered talks among Anglicans, Presbyterians and the United Church is being considered, the United Church report says.

The committee extends "heartiest congratulations and heartfelt good wishes" to ecumenical study groups involving Roman Catholics and Protestants in Montreal, London and British Columbia.

Age Said No Barrier For Theatrical Head

MONTREAL (CP) — The 19-year-old associate director of a theatrical and modelling agency here says her youth is definitely not a handicap in the business.

Jean Loch, the daughter of Baroness Loch of Drylaw, England put it this way in an interview: "I keep hearing, 'You're so capable for a 19-year-old.' And if I make a mistake, people say, 'Oh well, she's only 19.'"

Miss Loch started her fashion career with a London couturier and found she liked arranging for models.

She plans to go to Europe eventually in connection with this work and will head for the south of France to work in one of the many small fashion boutiques.

Miss Loch definitely prefers European to Montreal models both in temperament and performance.

"A Montreal model is always trying to convey her image and they often become moody and temperamental. On the other hand, European models are better trained and won't complain if they are asked to stand in one place for eight hours."

As to performance, "Montreal girls also tend to copy one another, and their presentation is all the same."

Miss Loch would dearly love to model but says "unfortunately, I haven't the fortitude to do it."

She lists the main requirements of models as an interesting, photogenic face, a figure with a small bust, neat waist and slim hips, and "an ability to make whatever she puts on look good, whether it's a Dior or a $19.95 model."

Opening lead — queen of hearts.

Good technique is simply a matter of making the right play at the right time. This is not always easy to do, because many situations require precise and unflinching reasoning, but most of the time the declarer has no trouble figuring out the proper play.

Take this hand where South plays three notrump after west overcalls in hearts. A heart is led and good technique requires declarer to let West win the trick. The purpose of ducking the queen is to interfere with subsequent communication between the East and West hands.

West continues with the jack and South takes the king. There is no hope of winning nine tricks without tackling clubs, so South plays a low club at trick three. West follows low, of course, and now South must play the nine to make the contract. He doesn't expect the nine to win, and in fact it loses to the ten, but he plays the nine because he can afford to lose a club to East and another one later to West, but can't afford to lose both tricks to West.

The combination of ducking the heart on the first trick and playing the nine of clubs on the third trick makes the hand for South.

East wins the club, but, thanks to the opening play by South, East does not have a heart to return at this stage. Let's say he plays the ten of diamonds. South wins it and leads another club.

West can take his ace now or later, but that is the last trick for the defense. South winds up with ten tricks to make the contract.

Declarer's problem from the beginning is to prevent West from establishing and cashing his long heart. All his moves are directed to that end. The first step is to sever connections between East and West, and the second is to prevent West from winning two club tricks. Declarer just keeps his eye on the ball to make sure that both missions are accomplished.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW
This day's planetary influences are generally excellent. Both personal and business matters should prosper, and all constructive efforts should culminate happily. Look for some exceptionally good news in the P.M.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY
If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates that it would be well to take advantage of all opportunities to advance worthwhile goals right now. You are currently in a most propitious cycle where job and monetary matters are concerned and, by putting forth best efforts, you should see good results before mid-1963.

Stimulating social experiences should enliven the latter half of this month, also in December and January, and there is a strong possibility that, if you are single, a new romance will enter your life during the same periods or between June and August of next year.

Domestic and property matters will be under generally fine aspects in the year to come, but do avoid speculation next month or you might precipitate an unnecessary crisis.

A child born on this day will be endowed with a fine mind, great versatility and stick-to-itiveness.

THE DAY AFTER TOMORROW
Generally speaking, Monday will be a period in which to stick more or less to routine matters. However, if you see a chance to improve your financial situation without taking any risks, the time will be propitious.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY
If Monday is your birthday, your planetary aspects indicate an upward trend in both job and financial affairs. For the Virgo-born, this month should mark a real turning point in all respects, and the fine influences should last—except for a brief period in October—for at least a year.

Where personal matters are concerned, the coming year also looks good for domestic, social and sentimental relationships—with especially fine influences governing these phases of your life this month; also in December and mid-1963. All in all, the prospects are bright indeed.

A child born on this day will be highly intuitive, a loyal friend and endowed with fine qualities of craftsmanship.
